Notes for the Teacher

Target Group

Pupils with an intermediate or advanced knowledge of English

Topic

- doing miscellaneous grammar
- playing darts

Objectives

- to acquaint the pupils with a typically English (indoor) game
- to give them the opportunity
- to use their free time in a sensible way
- to do grammar off the trodden paths, i.e. unconsciously and relaxingly and in a fun way
- to arouse the students' competitive instincts and foster and develop their combative potential
- to test and diagnose their English grammar proficiency
- to – for once – keep them away from staring into a goggle-box (TV screen, PC monitor, smartphone display)

Suggested procedure

- Pupils who do not possess a dart-board may buy one, borrow one from a friend, or produce a makeshift one (after visiting the respective website and informing themselves in the net about what a dart-board looks like)
- Pupils (who do not know them yet) read and internalize the rules of darts (cf. M 1)
- Pupils cut out the assignment cards (cf. M 2), illustrate (and colour) them if they feel like doing so, pile them up face down, number them and shuffle them thoroughly.
- Pupils start playing the game after shuffling the cards thoroughly. They throw the dart and after each throw take up a question card. The score achieved only counts if the question(s) following it is (are) answered correctly. (cf. M 3, Solutions).
- Pupils make their own darts game, e.g. a general knowledge one (with questions from the realms of history, geography, politics, music, sport etc.)

DOING GRAMMAR AS YOU PLAY
DARTS IS A FANTASTIC WAY
OF COMBINING WORK AND FUN.
YEAH, IT IS – SURE AS A GUN!
